1) Please do not offer an explanation of an alerted or announced bid UNLESS asked by the opponent next to bid

2) If your partner has given the WRONG explanation you must say nothing during the auction but:

- a) if you land up as the declaring side dummy or declarer must tell the opposition BEFORE their lead
- b) if you have to defend the hand you must keep quiet until the end of the game but call the T.D. then

3) A late alert can be rectified but you must call the T.D.

4) After three passes the bidding cards MUST BE LEFT ON THE TABLE and the lead is made FACE DOWN. This is the CLARIFICATION TIME when questions regarding bidding may be answered or misexplanations corrected. If there have been control or ace asking bids they must now be pointed out. The leader may ask questions but before his partner can ask the lead must be face down. The auction period is only finished when the lead card has been faced.
